

PORTLAND ASSOCIATION FOR PSYCHOLOGICAL TYPE

2018-2019 PROGRAMMING SEASON

"Everything living dreams of individuation, for everything strives towards its own wholeness."

- C.G. Jung

Registration & Coffee: 9:30 - 10:00 am
Program: 10:00 am – 12:30 pm
Tabor Space
5441 SE Belmont St., Portland, OR 97215
Free parking on 54th St.

October 6th - INSIGHTS FROM THE APTi XXII BIENNIAL CONFERENCE

Pamela Moore, Certified MBTI Practitioner, will take us on a journey through a variety of topics and insights coming out of the conference. Highlighted presentations include Saving Lives with Temperament and Risk Types, The Tyranny of Extraversion for Extraverts!, and Exploring Whole Type Patterns.

December 1st - IT's ABOUT TIME: PERCEIVING FUNCTIONS & RELATIONSHIP TO TIME

Markey Read, Professional/Leadership Development Coach and Author, will explore how and why different personality types experience time and use time. By understanding the roles and environments where each time style is most effective, we can find ways to be our most effective selves in our work and personal lives.

February 2nd - WHERE IS MY COFFEE CUP?

Monica H. Schneider, Psy. D. will show us how to use type knowledge to find a job setting that can provide more satisfaction than a job title. She will provide guidance for career development, how to find a job setting that is a good fit based on type and how to negotiate those challenges in your job search.

April 6th - TYPE IN BUSINESS

Gary Monti, Change Management and Business Consultant, has a motto: "Projects only go as far as the politics." In this presentation he will show how Type affects business planning, execution, and profitability. He will provide a framework for using Type to make better decisions personally and professionally.

June 8th - BETTER TOGETHER: TYPE AND TEAMWORK

Pam Rechel, President of Brave Heart Consulting, uses Type with teams all over the U.S. She will present some of what works well for her and will lead us through some of the exercises she uses with her clients to help them improve communication and collaboration in their teams.